

Farmhouse Living INSPIRATIONS

Create an honest country look with the best vintage style kitchenware

Farmhouses were designed for purpose. They were simple and serviceable and decoration was sparing. They tended also to be prime examples of the vernacular tradition, built using natural materials sourced locally. This honest feel has made the farmhouse a very desirable house type. Of course today many have modernised...

Look

- Play with materials to achieve the right mix of 'natural' and 'man made'. Use wooden pieces as a contrast to shining metal.
- Bring a room together by sticking to a pared down palette. Three complementary shades can provide sufficient interest.
- Look out for items with an organic, handmade look. You'll often find pottery and glassware with this appearance.
- Display fresh flowers for colour and vitality. In true countryside style, pick them from your garden and stand them in a kitchen pitcher.
